

NEWS FROM THE IASJF

⇒ Last June, 15-16, we had our Ninth International Symposium on “Family and Human Rights” at San Pablo University in Arequipa, Peru. Professors and Scholars from Europe and America debated about different issues related to the topic of the Symposium. The keynote speaker was Dra. Columba del Carpio (Supreme Court of Peru). During the Symposium, Scott FitzGibbon was honored with the Richard Wilkins Award, as a recognition for his longstanding and relentless work in the field of Family Law, and his support of the Academy. Select publications resulting from presentations will be published in volume seven of the IJFF.

During the Symposium, the Academy celebrated its General Assembly and had the elections to renew one third of the members of the Board. Stefano Troiano (University of Verona, Italy), was elected as Vice-President. Jo Aurea Imbong, from the University of Asia and the Pacific (The Philippines), David Pimentel (University of Idaho, USA), Avishalom Westreich (Academic Center of Law and Business, Israel) and Robin Wilson (University of Illinois College of Law, USA) were elected as Members of the Board.

The General Assembly accepted the proposal of the University of Bialystok, Poland, endorsed by Prof. Piotr Fiedorczyk, to host the Tenth Symposium next July.

⇒ Since the past newsletter, the Academy has admitted new members from Spain, USA, Brazil, Czech Republic, Chile, Israel and Serbia.
